The Angels With Closed Eyes

Gabrielle, an angel, bored that she just reports on animals' life. She finally found a small town full of people who survived explosions. So she decided to become a human being.

The town is covered by a transparent wall, giving it a dome shape. The people can't go beyond it. But the atmosphere outside has been destroyed by radioactivity, so that if a human being stepped outside he would not be able to survive for more than a couple of days. However, people are desperate to get beyond it.

Gabrielle's former partner, Angel No.672, watches over people. He wants to watch over people kindly. Even if human beings don't realize angels' existence, forever and ever. However, can he watch over them if they made terrible mistake?

"The Angel With Closed Eyes" is written by Shoji Kogami, directed by Mayumi Terada, and "To Lovely Margaret" is directed by James Allen will be held on Thursday, April 16 and on Saturday, April 18, 7:00 p.m. at Little Theater in Harding University. It cost two dollars both shows.
